South Suburban Small Business Association Selects Professional Systems, Inc. for Small Business of the Year Honors

Chicago, IL – January 26, 2014 –

The South Suburban Small Business Association's Annual Summit Awards honor leading business people and organizations who have contributed to the economic and cultural growth of the region. Each of the awardees is carefully selected from the many businesses and organizations in the region for their outstanding performance and excellence in their qualifying category.

After a competitive selection process, Professional Systems, Inc. was selected to receive this year's "Small Business of the Year Award" Honors. The award recognizes a business' management ability, continued growth, innovativeness of their product or service, and contribution to the community or others. SSSBA board member Lynette Nunn said that Professional Systems has established an impressive record of innovation, business growth, Job creation and sustainability.

PSI President and CEO William Burton said that it is a tremendous honor for PSI to be recognized by such a respected and impressive organization as the South Suburban Small Business Association. The year's awards ceremony will be held at the elegant Idlewild Country Club in Flossmoor, IL on February 12, 2014.
